Part 1

Subjunctive 1

Subjunctive 1 represents an action as a presupposition.

1.1. In accordance with its meaning Subjunctive 1 is often used in the principal clause of a sentence with a clause of unreal condition or in simple sentences.

In sentences of the presupposition of an action referring to the present or future and the realization of which is doubtful, but possible, Subjunctive 1 Simple (Subjunctive 1 Continuous) is used.

These forms of Subjunctive 1 coincide with the forms of the Future Indefinite in the Past and the Future Continuous in the Past.

What would you do in my place?

If I had no work I could arrive in Kyiv tomorrow.

If there were electricity, he would be working in the lab now.

If we had time, the job would be finished tonight.
